Henry Edward of London listed on the Historical Clock & Watch Research Page. It says he was a retailer from about 1890 to 1910. Census shows him in 1891 and again in 1901 as a watchmaker and jeweler at 127 Wilberforce Rd. Hornsey.

The movement is a Swiss Cylinder type.

The case is marked with Swiss hallmarks -- two standing bears – and they are also copied in the smaller shield just under the 0.935 grade mark (0.925 is Sterling Silver, but 0.935 is a common grade used on imports.)
