Westclox - Solid Black Walnut Wood Electric Alarm Clock (circa 40s)

WESTCLOX electric alarm clock. Case is solid, not veneer, black walnut and has a few tiny dings. It has brass feet with red felt pads. The dial is ivory and gold in color. The hands are black. Sweep second hand is gold. Crystal is smooth and clear. The little circle under the twelve is where the alarm time is displayed. There is a winding key in the back - this is for the alarm. Runs smooth and quiet, keeping good time. Just cleaned and oiled. All original, and the cord and plug appear to be a replacement for the original. The plug is split in a way to allow the pins to line up with the holes. Would guesstimate this clock to be from the 1940's. Measures overall 5-1/4" tall by 5-3/4" wide, and 2-3/4" thick.
