Batalha Clock Company - Steeple Clock from Portugal - (Circa 1970s)

Here is an interesting Steeple Clock that was made in Portugal in the 1970s, and is still in like new condition.

The solid and veneer mahogany case features two nicely turned finials and and measures 19-7/8" high x 11-3/4" (at the widest part of the base) x 5-1/4" deep (at the widest part of the base.) The original Batalha 8 day movement features a hand wound alarm mechanism (which is accessible behind the front door). The large brass pendulum has fancy engravings and figures.

The dial has a white background with Arabic numerals and red 24 hour markings as well
