Case: The square shaped case is all stainless steel with a slight curve to fit your wrist and a brushed texture on the front and smooth sides and back with a stainless steel back. It measures 41 mm across and 45 mm (from lug to lug.) It is 12 mm thick. The crown is recessed into the side of the case at the 4 o'clock position. The back of the case still has the blue factory seal and is marked Seiko, Water Resist, 10 Bar, Stainless Steel, 7S36-0120, Japan A [A0], and 751063

Dial: Is a gorgeous gloss black that is inset almost 5mm from the top of the huge rotating black and silver bezel and has blue and white applied hour markers with the white section actually being luminous. The baton style hour and minute hands are also a matching silver and blue and are luminous as well. The dial has a 60 seconds/minutes scale surrounding the outer edge in white which is in turn surrounded by a huge reflective chrome crystal ring. The crystal is very thick scratch-proof glass. There is a day and date window at 3 o'clock position which can be quick-set by the recessed crown. There is also a large red smooth sweep seconds hand and the dial reads Seiko (with the Seiko logo) below the 12 o'clock position and Sports in blue and Water 10BAR Resist - 23 Jewels above the 6 o'clock position.

Movement: 23 Jewels Automatic Japanese Movement . Keeping excellent time. This watch has one of Seiko's best made 23 Jewel Automatic movements.

Bracelet: A "custom" and unique all stainless steel bracelet with a double locking push button adjustable safety clasp marked Seiko Sports. This gorgeous and unique looking stainless steel bracelet also has a matching brushed finish on the 2 large custom designed links while the rest of the smaller links have a smooth finish.

Comments: A very nice 1970s style retro-mod Seiko.
